

Feb. 25 1944

Mr Stewart E. Hoyt Jr.
New York & Adriatic Ave.
Atlantic City N.J.

Dear Mr Hoyt:

You may be surprised to hear from me, and again you may not. Baseball season is getting under way, and I have always felt Atlantic City might enjoy some good baseball if it could be arranged. I see The New York Yankees are going to train there, and that is why I am writing you at this time.

Do you think it might be possible we could move in for training, after the Yankees leave? We are looking into the possibility of some other spots, but I decided to write you, and if you thought it might be possible, I will come down and see the proper party.

I will greatly appreciate an answer as soon as possible, as it is almost time to be leaving for camp. If we could get the training grounds do you think we could get room and board. Would the prices be very high. There will be about 18 or 20 men in camp. Where are the Yankees training? How many people does the park seat, in case we wanted to play some games there. I will be glad to come down or write to anyone you suggest that would be able to help. If the park is owned by the city maybe you know some one else I should contact. However I still would like to keep my ties with The American Legion.

Please answer me right away.

Very Truly Yours